ANTHONY AMIANO

Anthony Amiano was born in Mount Vernon to Anthony and Monica Amiano and was raised in Valhalla, with his sister, Amanda. His grandparents emigrated from Afragola, in Naples, Italy to seek better opportunities for their family. Anthony graduated from Valhalla High School and earned a Bachelor's degree from Manhattan College as well as a Master's degree from Columbia University.

From an early age, Anthony believed in the importance of serving his community. To this end, he sought and won election to the Valhalla School District Board of Education in 2014, and later as a Councilman on the Mount Pleasant Town Board, serving in both instances as one of the youngest elected officials in New York State. In addition, he made time to volunteer on various local boards and committees, including the Westchester County Parks, Recreation and Conservation Board and the Mount Pleasant Architectural Review Board, and is also a faithful parishioner and volunteer at Holy Name of Jesus Church in Valhalla.

Anthony currently works as a Global Communications Manager at Wiley, a multi-national academic publishing company, and previously served as a special assistant to the president at Berkeley College, where he led strategic initiatives and institutional planning committees. He was instrumental in the College's COVID-19 Task Force during the shutdown and reopening phases of the pandemic across six campuses with 4,000 students and 1,000 employees.

Prior to his time in higher education, Anthony worked as a Legislative Aide at the Westchester County Board of Legislators for former County Legislator Michael J. Smith of District 3.

JUDY DELVECCHIO FIX

Judy Delvecchio Fix was born and raised in Eastchester, New York. Judy met John Fix, III when she started working part time as a cashier at his family's store, Cornell's True Value Hardware. A fixture in the Eastchester community, Cornell's is known for its vast array of products and for its wonderful customer service.

Right before she married John in 1983, Judy worked for Citicorp in the Financial Control division in 1982, where she remained until 1990 when she had her daughters, first Megan and then, Rebecca. Once both children were in school, she returned to Cornell's to utilize her financial skills as the bookkeeper.

Despite her hectic schedule as part of a thriving family business, Judy has been a driving force in a multitude of community organizations and events throughout the years. The depth of her commitment to these organizations and their events, and the enthusiasm she shows as both a joiner and an innovator is inspiring. She was the driving force behind the creation of the Eastchester Alumni Association, a vital and active group for both new and more seasoned graduates, and the Eastchester 5K Race – a very popular annual fall event, and serves as Treasurer for both. In addition, she has served in a variety of capacities for the Concordia Conservatory, Eastchester High School PTA, St. Luke's Church, the Community Fund, the Eastchester/Tuckahoe Chamber of Commerce, and for the Girl Scouts. For all this and more, Judy was honored, along with her husband John, to be selected for the Eastchester Hall of Fame. Her friends are committed and devoted to her, as are many of the people in the Eastchester, for her humble and active service.
