From the Connecticut and Putnam borders to the beginning of New York City, or from Long Island Sound to the Hudson River, the renowned Westchester County Parks, Recreation and Conservation (PRC) touches every resident, most of who enjoy, utilize and want their Parks!

Most residents use Parks and 85% rate them good/excellent.

50 parks on 18,000 acres, PRC offers open space, programs, community events, sports, affordable entertainment and some of the best views in the county.

Mission – Create life-enriching experiences at safe, clean, affordable parks and preserve our natural resources through responsible leadership.

Residents can count on PRC to be accountable, professional and provide excellence as evidenced by being Nationally Accredited for close to a decade and a half. PRC constantly demonstrates its strong commitment to consistently delivering a high level of service.

Nationally Accredited – Only agency in New York State to achieve accreditation by the National Park and Recreation Association (NRPA).
